Yes No Maybe Hands

Our classic hand-gesture logo print, because actions speak louder than words.

These keyrings are handmade in the UK from empty N<sub>2</sub>O (laughing gas) cylinders. We hear laughing gas can be good fun. Its medicinal uses have been exploited for centuries, though abuse can result in a long list of nasty side effects. No point issuing a safety warning here though, since no one should be reading this page. In fact close the lookbook now, and walk slowly towards the door with your hands where I can see them.

Anyway, where was I? Oh, yes... N<sub>2</sub>O. What isn't a laughing matter are the leftovers: loads of beautiful little shiny bullet-like canisters that cost loads to recycle and clog up the landfills (along with all the other consumables we devour). Branded with a vinyl YNM Hands logo and dangle from ball-chain fittings, they make great keyrings... Sweet.

The Yes No Maybe Hands print is available for men and women on Ts, sweats, hoodies and hats in a bunch of colourways.

Tick Flock

A brand new print for this season, featuring Ticks for 'Yes', Crosses for 'No' and Question Marks for 'Maybe'.

Inspired by nature - random flocks of birds darting around the evening sky. Not to be confused with flocking, the fuzzy stuff.

Check out the 'Crownbones' designs for flocking!

Each one of these Streetglam garments is unique. They get treated with a patented technique by us at Yes No Maybe HQ, which gives that amazing rough string vest texture in a complementary colour - that's the street part.

The glam is provided by sparkling stud detail on the chest.

Women's Jackets

Snow Camo Parka
Cold War Fabric
Tick Flock Lining

Heavy Wool Jacket
Army Fabric
Keep Calm Lining

What happens when pure, peaceful, creative thought is applied to the materials of war?
Beautiful new stuff, that's what.

Yes No Maybe went to the 'War and Peace' show and witnessed a lot of war for sale. We looked hard, but couldn't find the peace, so we bought some war and made our own.

We fell in love with the raw, fresh, functional print you see on this garment - rough brush strokes that mimic moss and rock in snow.

These Jackets are made from genuine Cold War snow camo shell, printed cotton lining with the new YNM ✓ ✕ ?™ Flock. With chunky ribbing detail, these jackets are built to last. Available in three colour options and four sizes.

Designed & made in England by Raeburn for Yes No Maybe™
